COD LIVER OIL NO GOOD. Physicians Discontinuing It.

(From the Bufnio, N. Y. Nawa.) Experience has shown that cod lives Experience has shown that cod lives oil has no nutritive power, and, besides this negative character, the accumulation of fatty matter which follows its us, deranges the alimentary canal. Any kind of oil is trying to the stomach, even when the system is in a healthy condition, and how much more must it be when the digestive organs are weak, and are dosed with something of the most unpulatable character. The quantity of cod liver oil which is ordered to be taken daily, is always in excess of the capacity for digestion and absorption, and injurious results naturally follow. In fact we would hear of more cases in which serious harm has been caused by cod liver oil were it not that in order to swallow it, the patient mixes it with whiskey, and the salcohol thus taken neutralizes the evil done by the oil. It is a fact laid down by all chemists and scientists that nothing will restore a di-ordered system or promote digestion, which has been impaired, quicker or more effectively than alcohol, and as this is when mote direction, which has been impaired, quicker or more effectively than alcohol, and as this is what medical mon aim at in their treatment of the sick, it follows that they are now largely prescribing simply a pure whisky and discontinuing the use of cod liver oil entirely. None of these so-called cod liver oils pretend to have more than 50 per cent. and some of them only 20 per cent. of pursoil. Some of it is Shark Oil, which has been found to have no medicipal effects, in fact, it is of it is Shark Oil, which has been found to have no medicinal effects, in fact, it is found worse than the cod liver oil. Two ounces of alcehol contains more nutriment than is found in twelve ounces of lean meat, besides it is the only medicinal article that euters the blood direct, without any digastive effort on the part of the stomach, while cod liver oil is so indigestible as to necessitate the imployment of other agents to aid its assimulation, and, as a consequence, leaves the stomach. of other agents to aid its assimulation, and, as a consequence, leaves the stomach, which of a consumptive patient is always weak, in a weaker condition than ever. As sasted, whiskey is now the recognized treatment for consumption, but let the patients be careful to see that the whiskey they use is absolutely pure and free from fusel oil, and made from nait, such as Juffy's pure mait whiskey, which latter is the only whiskey that combines a food quality with a stimulant.

Lameness.

E. B., Hadsville, Mineral Co., W. Va.—In regard to the mare I wrote you about I think her lameness is in her shoulder. Since I wrote you she got rid of her lameness. I used her two days a week ago, and her lameness returned. On examining her shoulder I find a hard lump about the size of a half dollar, nearly flat. From the feel of the outer edge it is abouthalf as thick as your finger. It can only be felt by gripping the muscle up that runs by the side of the neck down over the point of the shoulder. To look at it you can see nothing wrong. If this is what causes her lameness please give me a remedy and tell me what you think causes her lameness. Paint the enlargement with comp, tinct. of iodine. If this does not remove it have it removed with the kaife by your physician, providing he thinks it is the cause of the trouble.

V. W. L., Loydeville, W. Va.,—I have a colt that will be three years old next May. In the winter of 1834 and 1835, it had a distemper that lasted all winter and is got quite poor, and did not run at the nose as horses do, ordinarily, but swelled about its threat and neck and bresst, sometimes extending the whole length of its body. In the spring I rowled it at the neck and quite a lot of water or matter run out. It got better, and in fact, seemed to get well, but now the same symptoms begin to appear. His appetite is not good, gums and tongas whitish; he is swelled a little about the threat and along the belly. Occasionally a yellowish water coxes out of the root of the gums of the front teeth. Please tell me through the Hyrrichiancene what is wrong, and what I shall do to effect a cure.

Answer—The affection is due to an improper condition of the circulation. Give the following: Ferri sulphate and pv. zinzabar of each two ounces, pv. mix vomica three ounces, mix to make sixteen powders. Give one powder in each feed, three a day. Feed well and give moderate exercise with a good dry bed to sleep on. Bathe the swelling with warm water and see that the bowels are kept regular.

HORSE NOTES.

Mares with young colts should have the first grass obtainable.

The horse markets are rather quiet now, although the volume of business is begin ning to increase. Prospects for an early spring will doubtless make an earlier demand for horses for farm work in the rural districts. This will prevent an over supply in the city markets, and should stimulate prices.
